

Legal instruments for Sustainability Goals and their applications in the European area

24 June 2024
14:30
Online Seminar
ELI Italian Hub

The Event is thought as a first occasion for analyzing the applications of legal regulations on sustainability goals issues.

A series of EU law provisions about sustainability goals are starting to be approved. In the perspective of their future application in the Member States, it is useful to have a look at the experience of the relevant regulations already in place.

In this framework, the UN Guiding Principles and the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises are also a necessary benchmark in the field of the due diligence of the supply chain and, more broadly, for the protection of human rights and environmental resources in business activities.

This online Seminar is thought as a starting point for future ELI National HUBs collaborative activities. In fact, a comparison among the rules given in the interested fields as a transposition of the EU Directives and the applications of the EU Regulations in the different Member States is going to be very useful in the near future, along with the development of the framework of legal regulations with sustainability goals.
